Dusty Road

Inner Prisms

I walk the line, look straight ahead
A second chance, one slip and it's gone
Though the bird has flown
The sands of time stand still
Scars that never heal
Wounds you always feel
Keep on walking that dusty road
Blinded by the flame
Keep on walking that dusty road
Never giving in
A single light, you hold your breath
Your heart beats fast, a skin that burns
Maybe the tide has turned

The goal you know is near
And wish of a thousand nights
Voices you always hear
So keep on walking that dusty road
Keep on walking that dusty road
Blinded by the flame
Keep on walking that dusty road
Never giving in
Keep on walking that dusty road
Blinded by the flame
Keep on walking that dusty road
Never giving in
