

Dusty Road

Inner Prisms

I walk the line, look straight ahead
A second chance, one slip and it's gone
    Though the bird has flown
    The sands of time stand still
    Scars that never heal
    Wounds you always feel
Keep on walking that dusty road
    Blinded by the flame
Keep on walking that dusty road
    Never giving in
A single light, you hold your breath
Your heart beats fast, a skin that burns
    Maybe the tide has turned

    The goal you know is near
    And wish of a thousand nights
    Voices you always hear
So keep on walking that dusty road
    Keep on walking that dusty road
    Blinded by the flame
Keep on walking that dusty road
    Never giving in
Keep on walking that dusty road
    Blinded by the flame
Keep on walking that dusty road
    Never giving in
