

Spheres

Tangerine Circus

Sometimes you feel inside, deep in your heart that you're sinking down
Sadness, downfall and failure all form a part of our lives
But don't let these ghosts of human kind take the steering wheel,
Chaos sometimes clouds your vision of things
But reveals a path
Wondering of what is the secret of life
Looking at the grey sky
Let yourself dream with castles of sand
Navigate through this path
Happiness is in the air
Running through the spheres, killing the pain
Fly to a lovely place right in your head
Drive all your fears away
Everything, good and bad, is spinning around
Circles in your mind
Going back and forth
Makes your soul go a little blind
To destroy those chains of misery
Cast your demons away
It is better to live in total bliss
Feel the ecstasy
Wondering of who, of who you really are
Looking at the grey sky
Let yourself dream with castles of sand
Navigate through this path
Happiness is in the air
Running through the spheres, killing the pain
Fly to a lovely place right in your head
Drive all your fears away
Happiness is in the air
Running through the spheres, killing the pain
Fly to a lovely place right in your head
Drive all your fears away
Happiness is in the air
Running through the spheres, killing the pain
Fly to a lovely place right in your head
Let all your fears
Dry all the tears
Roll like the spheres
