

Dreaming Keepsake

Echo Orbiter

I can't tell if you're awake or some sort of dreaming keepsake
Please make my one chance at life worthwhile without sacrifice

I die more everyday I wake up

I close my eyes and wish that I was lucky enough to see your eyes
With a just a foot of space between us, and share the air we breathe

Once in a while this world eludes me

How does it feel to be somewhere? Anywhere
Are you even aware that a beautiful illusion in my mind
Relentless haunting ghost in my dreams is you?

Oh God what is real?

Over romanticize all hope; it's brief and brings little return
I scream through moments, days, and years, and receive a fictional wave

But I can't tell if it's hello or goodbye

Lyrics submitted by Cab.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>