You Only Hide

Something for Kate

so i keep watch and you keep breaking breaking formation to become someone else
and your eyes become corridors where i wander with a candle calling out to youand you only hide because you know i'll find youyou say you just want to feel the way you used to feel the way you should feel and i wander through the lost city of youand you only hide because you know i'll find you
