

Still Always on My Mind

Masked Intruder

I've been dreaming about you every night.
Or, otherwise tossing and turning and burning to be by your side.
In either case, the takeaway is the same, you realize:
That you're still always on my mind.
I heard every word you said to the judge.
And honestly baby, it once drove me crazy but now it don't bug me as much.
I'm sorry to repeat myself, but I really should emphasize that you're always on my mind. It's been so long since that fateful day you called and had me hauled away.
But I still can't forget so much as an inch of your silhouette.
My best guess, darling, is I never will.
I'm still dreaming about you every night.
Or, otherwise tossing and turning and burning to be by your side.
In either case, the takeaway is the same, you realize:
That you're still always on my mind.
I'm sorry to repeat myself, but I really should emphasize that you're always on my mind.
Yeah, you're still always on my mind.
