

Carvel

John Frusciante

When I try to force it out
Never looking in only out
Now is the time for millions to lose
Never the same since i lost you
Running me out of town
Wishing the best around
Would only get off my back
Heaven receives you and throws you back
Sending a dummy to my God
Driving to eat a Carvel cake
Somewhere you know isn't where you think
Have you gone away already (come back, come back, come back, come back)
All the good times are on their way
Up and down that's how energy stays alive
And I wouldn't have it any other way
