Get Your Way

David Ryan Harris

It's the craziest thing i dont know how i wound up like this
You barely get me a little but I get you more than i can stand
All of my friends keep tellin me i outta put my foot down
But if I ever do I bet they wont like where it ends
Cause HoneyYou will always get your way (You'll always get your way)
You will always get your way (You'll always get your way)
You will always get your way with meYou will always get your way (Baby you'll always get it)
You will always get your way (Don't you forget it)
You will always get your way with meYou start feeling the mood and its time to get our freak on
If i start feeling the mood you tell me to put that thing away
All my friends keep telling me i outta play the field now
Don't they know your my MVP and its you i wanna play, HoneyYou will always get your way (You'll always get your way)
You will always get your way (You'll always get your way)
You will always get your way with meYou will always get your way (Baby you'll always get it)
You will always get your way (Don't you forget it)
You will always get your way with meCause you're my savior and Mother Theresa all rolled into one
And i wouldn't have it any other way
You are you and thats ok, ok, alrightYou will always get your way (You'll always get your way)
You will always get your way (You'll always get your way)
You will always get your way with me (You'll always get your way with me baby)You will always get your way (Baby you'll always get it)
You will always get your way (Baby don't you forget it)
You will always get your way with me (You'll always get your way with me baby)You will always get your way
You will always get your way (You'll always get your way)
You will always get your way with me (You'll always get your way with me baby)You will always get your way
You will always get your way
You will always get your way with me
