

No Need to Suffer (Live from Macon 4/13/96)

Gov't Mule

Woman, suspended in time
Heal yourself, no need to stay blind
Spiral dreams, too much to bear
Spiraling who knows where Let me take you down
No need to suffer anymore
Wrap yourself in the warmth of my arms
And we'll lie awake till sleep overtakes us
Can't you see
There's no need to suffer anymore Defenseless, trapped in a cage
Blissfulness devoured by the rage
Fate's been cruel, though the years have been kind
You've go to heal yourself, no need to stay blind Let me take you down
No need to suffer anymore
Wrap yourself in the warmth of my arms
And we'll laugh out loud while the earth dies screaming
Can't you see
There's no need to suffer anymore And we'll fly away
And look down at the earth below
Fly away and we'll never look back
No, we'll never look back Woman suspended in time
Heal yourself, no need to stay blind
