

To Pieces

Carter Winter

I love my love
It's never enough
There's always a part that's missing
I'm gone I'm gone
This road I walk, is more than just making a living
If you could see what I see
When this dream captured me
Then you wouldn't leave me alone

But I'd rather be loved to pieces
Than be together and never know when to say when
You leave me and come back and fall apart again
And that's killing me
I'd rather be loved to pieces

I do I do, you said it too
I hope you don't doubt that I mean it
But if you could take a leap of faith with me
I've got better places I can
Maybe you and I should admit that it's over

Cuz baby I'd rather be loved to pieces
Than be together and never know when to say when
You leave me and come back and fall apart again
And it's killing me
Yeah I'd rather be loved to pieces

I'd rather be loved to pieces
Than be together and never know when to say when
You leave me and come back and fall apart again
And it's killing me
Yeah I'd rather be loved to pieces

Lyrics Submitted by Morgan Starr

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>