

Ten Lonely Guys

Neil Diamond

Each night we meet and talk about you
We reminisce about the things you used to do
We just sit around broken hearted
'Cause all of us are still in love with you
Oh yes, we're ten lonely guys with ten broken hearts
We thought your lies were true
Oh, yes we're ten lonely guys with tears in our eyes
Ten lonely guys who still love you
Eddie was the first one to hold you
And Jerry he was the first to taste your kiss
Then came Lackie, Stan, Richie, Larry, Bobby, Wes, and Cliff
And Neil was the last one on your list

Oh yes, we're ten lonely guys with ten broken hearts
We thought your lies were true
Oh, yes we're ten lonely guys with tears in our eyes
Ten lonely guys who still love you
The footsteps at the door can mean just one thing
Someone else has been a fool for you
One more guy who wants to tell his story
Here one more guy who knows what we've been through
Oh yeah, we're ten lonely guys with ten broken hearts
We thought your lies were true
Yes we're just ten lonely guys with tears in our eyes
And tonight we'll set a chair for someone new
Oh, yes we're ten lonely guys who still love you
