Diamond Ring

Pedro the Lion

You said that you would not love me last summer
And you said that you would not love me last spring
But I hoped that you would change your mind by autumn
Especially when I bought that diamond ringBut you still said no
You wouldn't have me
You still said no, no, noI heard that you've been sleeping with your old friends
And I heard when each one left, and broke your heart
I told you then that I would never leave you
And I told you that I loved you from the startYou still said no
You would not have me
You still said no, no, noAnd even though you haven't any answers
You still think that you don't need anyone
To save you from the mess that you've created
And even when I gave my only sonYou still said no
You wouldn't have me
You still said no, no, no
