Born To Be Blue

The Mavericks

If someone were to read my history
They would know why it's no mystery
She's not ordinary; It's her love I carry
I was born, born to be blue

I'm the fool who sees tomorrow
But all that time has just been borrowed
She's the only reason that I keep believin'
I was born, born to be blue
For everybody, there's someone just for them
And like anybody you lose one every now and then
And like anybody you lose one every now and then

I have found that I'm still fallin'
Maybe I have found my callin'
She's the only reason that I keep believin'
I was born, born to be blue

She's not ordinary; It's her love I carry
I was born, born to be blue
I was born, born to be blue
