Stand In Line

Against All Authority

You've worked your whole life Stuck in your life and you've got caught in the undertow There's one thing I know I don't wanna be like And you've got nothing to show Goin' down and gonna drown and You hate yourself and you hate what you've become And I hate it, too And everyone that tries to stand in my way And I hate you Don't wanna be like you Because I won't succumb Give up your dreams And you're wasting time And stand in line wasting your life Give up your dreams and stand in line And now it seems you've forgotten What happened to all you're hopes and dreams Do you brag about it to you friends? You're not the same Who you once were How rebellious you once were when it was the trend To offend That's so routine But now it seems so adolescent Don't wanna be like you
