Destroying Angel

Sneaker Pimps

I know you know my head's not in this now
Nothing you could keep so keep me down
Like the stones beneath the water
That you walk on to be tallerThe hands you stuck together
When you prayed you'd wait forever
Just another fragile angel heart
Falling down on lead wings torn apartThe words beneath my skin
The ink that you put in Destroying all the things you left around
Earthbound coming downSo what you have the nerve to call a friend
Is starved of all the sense to make amends
I'm the glass you break to touch
But you never want me much
