

Redhead

Isaac and Blewett

Sand slips through my fingers, tears fall from my eyes,
How your warmth still lingers, as my heart slowly dies

Sweet, sweet, sweet is your memory sweet, sweet were your songs
I'll never be sorry
Love is never wrong

There'll be no more sunsets on redhead
There'll be no more handrail in her shade
There'll be no more climbing her tower
There'll be no more promises made

Waves rolling forever
Each wave a secret to tell
I stood crying for hours as the sea took back each tear that fell

There'll be no more sunsets on redhead
There'll be no more handrail in her shade
There'll be no more climbing her tower
There'll be no more promises made
