Broken

Sixwire

I am lost, paid the cost
Double crossed by one heart
And I tried not to cry
As love died in my armsYou make each day a little better
Sometimes I still can't hold it togetherI'm broken in pieces on the ground
But I'm willing to try so I'm keeping my heart open
Hoping love will come around and find me again
Won't you save me, I'm brokenI have prayed every day
For a way to believe, yeah, yeah
But I know in my soul how that goes
You could leaveI hang on every word you've told me
Just remember every time you hold meI'm broken in pieces on the ground
But I'm willing to try so I'm keeping my heart open
Hoping love will come around and find me again
Won't you save me, I'm broken, save me, I'm brokenBaby, help me put it all behind me
You're the only thing that doesn't remind me
I'm brokenI'm broken in pieces on the ground
But I'm willing to try so I'm keeping my heart open
Hoping love will come around and find me again
Won't you save me, I'm broken, save me, I'm broken
Won't you save me, I'm broken
