

Van Gogh

Norma Montiel

Give away all that you have inside
Every last moment that you're alive until your body is cold
 Sure, as he peels away your skin
You see the monster is intent to see this to endIt would be easier to die
 Just easier sometimes
 Because the light is a sober
 Reminder of what he did
Your body can't get over itLife has been keeping you awake
 Asphyxiated by the hate and it never calms
 Sew the aching in your veins
That no one ever seen with the blade in the sheetsIt would be easier to die
 Just easier sometimes
 Because the light is a sober
 Reminder of what he did
Your body can't get over itIt's over, it's over
 Except the scars that last forever
 It's over, it's over
Except the scars that last foreverIt would be easier to die
 Just easier sometimes
 Because the light is a sober
 Reminder of what he did
Your body can't get over it
