Beautiful Nothing

Liv Heyer

Breathe out

And let the cold

Wash over you

Do as your told

And where you end

Is only my starting line

So many times you said

It was only a matter of time

Breathe in

And let it go

Give in

Cause you already know

And where it ends

Is only the beginning

Cause right now

Honey youâ€™re not living

They say itâ€™s painless

That you wonâ€™t feel this

The white wins you over

And none of it ever happened

And you can tell when itâ€™s near

Cause it all becomes clear

Finally it lifted

Then you blink and youâ€™ve missed it

And the roses bloom again

Everyone you ever loved is holding your hand

And the fresh air that you wanted for 5 years

Is forced upon you it brings you to tears

And itâ€™s gone, you feel nothing

No pain no shame

Just beautiful nothing

No one deserves

Your cruel pain

When you know you should know this face of mine

But Iâ€™ll never have a name

The hospital beds are stuck in your head

Not enough was said; Iâ€™m still seeing red

And Iâ€™m hanging by a thread; youâ€™re hanging by a thread

They say itâ€™s painless

That you wonâ€™t feel this

The dark wins you over

And none of it ever happened

And you can tell when itâ€™s near

Cause youâ€™re consumed by fear

Finally it lifted

Then you blink and youâ€™ve missed it

And the roses bloom again

Everyone you ever loved is holding your hand

And the fresh air that you wanted for 5 years

Is forced upon you it brings you to tears

And itâ€™s gone, you feel nothing

No pain no shame

Just beautiful nothing

They say itâ€™s painless

But Iâ€™ll feel this one

The dark wins you over

But I still know itâ€™s happened love

I know its gonna drive me insane

I canâ€™t substitute this shame

Canâ€™t substitute this shame

And you are stronger than I have ever been

And the roses bloom again

Everyone you ever loved is holding your hand

And the fresh air that you wanted for 5 years

Is forced upon you it brings us to tears

And itâ€™s gone, you feel nothing

But weâ€™re left in the black and the pain

Of your beautiful nothing
