People Change

For King And Country

Somebody told me that you were doing fine
Guess that means I'm no longer on your mind
Must be true that every wound heals in time
Cause I'm all right, you're all right
We're all rightIn my heart there's a girl who needs you
Cause you left your mark even though I couldn't keep you
Life goes on no matter what you do
Cause I'm all right, you're all right
We're all rightMaybe for flowers to grow it has to rain
Maybe we'll only know love once we've felt the pain
Why do I still hold my breath when I hear your name?
I used to think we'd stay the same
But people change
I used to think we'd stay the same
But people changeSaid I wouldn't forgive you, but here I am
Wishing you well and now that I understand
My biggest fear was to lose you and I did in the end
But I'm all right, you're all right
We're all rightMaybe for flowers to grow it has to rain
Maybe we'll only know love once we've felt the pain
Why do I still hold my breath when I hear your name?
I used to think we'd stay the same
But people change
People changeWhen the love is gone and everything is hurting
Like the rising of the sun, the best is yet to comeMaybe for flowers to grow it has to rain
Maybe we'll only know love once we've felt the pain (it has to rain)
Why do I still hold my breath when I hear your name?
I used to think we'd stay the same
But people change (people change)
I used to think we'd stay the same
But people change
I used to think we'd stay the same
But people change

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/