

A Loss for Words

Charles Billingsley

Verse 1:

I've prayed in the silence, I felt Your presence near.
I've walked in the garden, found You waiting there.
I've stood with the masses, to lift my hand and praise.
I've knelt there all alone and called Your Name.Pre-Chorus:
Yet, today I'm just not sure of what I should say.Chorus:

I am empty,
You are holy.

Come and fill my soul with who You are.

In my silence, You still hear me.

In the quiet of this moment, I am hurt.

I'm overwhelmed and at a loss for words.Verse 2:

I've cried in my weakness, for strength to just believe.

I searched for a reason, that You would die for me.

How could the Lamb of Glory choose to take my place?

And with open arms of love offer grace?Pre-Chorus:

Still, today I'm just not sure of what I should say.Chorus:

I am empty,
You are holy.

Come and fill my soul with who You are.

In my silence, You still hear me.

In the quiet of this moment, I am hurt.

I'm overwhelmed and at a loss for words.Bridge:

You are holy.

You are worthy.

The Blessed Son of God, the Morning Star.

You are glorious.

You are marvelous.

But there's so much more to who You really are,

To who You really are.I am empty.

You are holy.

Come and fill my soul with who You are.

In my silence, You still hear me.

You hear me.Chorus:

I am empty.

You are holy.

Come and fill my soul with who You are.

In my silence, You still hear me.

In the quiet of this moment, I am hurt.

Oh, I'm overwhelmed!
(I am empty)
Oh, You are holy.
(You are holy)
Come and fill my soul with who You are.
Oh, in my silence, You sill hear me.
In the quiet of this moment, I am hurt.Outro:
Oh, I'm overwhelmed
(I'm overwhelmed)
Oh, I'm overwhelmed and at a loss for words.
Oooh.
Yeah, yeah.
Mmh.
