

Black Clouds

Papa Roach

This is making me crazy, these black clouds following me
So I look for signs of light but rarely I see them
I return to my shelter and I crawl in a bottle
I'm losing my will for this, so over emotional Black clouds they rain down
But they can't kill the sun Confession of depression, this life I'm second guessin'
Like ashes to ashes, I always seem to fall down
I'm tired of running, it's time to face my demons
Confession of depression, this life I'm second guessin' My emotions are storming and tears fall just like rain
Pain strikes like lightning, despair is becoming my friend
I return to my shelter and I crawl in a bottle
I'm losing my will for this, so over emotional Black clouds they rain down
But they can't kill the sun Confession of depression, this life I'm second guessin'
Like ashes to ashes, I always seem to fall down
I'm tired of running, it's time to face my demons
Confession of depression, this life I'm second guessin' Black clouds they rain down
But they can't kill the sun inside Still looking for signs of light
These black clouds keep following me
I return to my shelter and I crawl in a bottle Black clouds they rain down
But they can't kill the sun Confession of depression, this life I'm second guessin'
Like ashes to ashes, I always seem to fall down
I'm pushing myself to a point of self-destruction
Confession of depression, this life I'm second guessin'
I'm tired of running, it's time to face my demons
Confession of depression, this life I'm second guessin' Black clouds they rain down
But they can't kill the son inside
