Pain

Dry Kill Logic

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Every single thing I believed in
I knew I could not win
Without you I thought that I
Would failBut in us
I thought we had trust
A passion, a lust
To make everything work outBide our time
It'll work out fine
We will cross that line
As soon as we get thereDo nothing
Say nothing
Be nothing
It's taking away my painI have many things that I regret
But I'll take what I can get
Even though I know it might break meWeb of lies
Hides the truth inside
Right behind your eyes
I wish I knew how you feltCan't ignore
What I've heard before
Lunatic no more
I listened and said nothingDo nothing
Say nothing
Be nothing
It's taking away my painEven without you, I feel it
Taking away my
Realize, realize what is right and what is wrongSo you
Want to walk on that fine line
'Cause I think it's about time
To show you exactly what I meanBelieve it
You'll accomplish it
It's the love of it
That will get you through the dayHave to try 'cause you'll wonder why

Is it worth the time?
All you have to do
Believe in everythingDo nothing
Be nothing
It's taking away my painEven without you, I feel it
Taking away my
What is right and what is wrong
