

Here Comes a Man

The Parlotones

I'm on a black balloon
I'm coming down, I break the ties that bind us wear a golden crown of thorns I'm on a cloud I'm gonna fall for you I beat my chest with all the biggest a flame of passion burns me through and through yeah here comes the man holds out his hand he's looking strangely at me and in a flash I'm on the floor and all his friends are laughing It took a million smiles to be with you your crooked teeth are diamonds I count the things that we could do I miss your smile, the sunshine too I beat my chest with all the biggest flame and passion burns me through and through yeah
here comes the man holds out his hand he's looking strangely at me and in a flash I'm on the floor and all his friends are laughing
here comes the man holds out his hand
he's looking strangely at me and in a flash I'm on the floor and all his friends are laughing...
here comes the man holds out his hand
he's looking strangely at me and in a flash
I'm on the floor and all his friends are laughing tell me why do you laugh at me
tell me why do you laugh at me
here comes the man holds out his hand
he's looking strangely at me and in a flash
I'm on the floor and all his friends are laughing
here comes the man holds out his hand
he's looking strangely at me and in a flash
I'm on the floor and all his friends are laughing
here comes the man holds out his hand don't don't don't tell me why you laugh at me and tell me why you laugh at me I'm on a black balloon

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlyrics.com/>