

Out of Season

Wisdom In Chains

I saw my mother so I asked her,
"What's the end for your fuckin' bastard?"
I lost it long ago and that's what I am.
No happy ever after.
I'm gonna hang from a fuckin' rafter
And swing to the beat of my cold dead heart. Oh yeah. What became of your only daughter?
What became of all your sons?
You let them leave without a reason.
And now you're left with nothing but the same of an empty home.
The tree of love is out season. I saw my brother so I asked him,
"Do you think about the past and does it keep you up at night like you're all alone?"
He said, "Man, I shed some tears and all I got was wasted years
So fuck the world and all the bullshit that's in it."
I try not think about it cause it only brings me down
But on a day like this it's the only thing on my mind.
I don't want sympathy.
I don't you to agree.
I justs wanna smash the system that fucked it up for me
