Little Bit Less

Idle Sons

Take me only as I am
And don't regret it
Face this fast approaching fall
With eyes wide open
See me
If only when you're dreaming
Inside I am screaming,
Wanting you to let go and start overI gave a little bit more
And got a little bit less
So now I'm leaving
It was beginning to show
That you couldn't care less
I can't believe it
I thought you were the one
Then you left me here alone
It makes no sense at allTake me only as I am
And don't regret it
If you regret it
did you lie
Did you cheat on me
If you regret it
Could you see me
If only when you're dreaming
Inside I am screaming
Want you to let go and start overI gave a little bit more
And got a little bit less
So now I'm leaving
It was beginning to show
That you couldn't care less
I can't believe it
I thought you were the one
Then you left me here alone
It makes no sense at allI tried for you
Lied, tonight I even cried for you
Why should I die for you
For youI gave a little bit more
And got a little bit less
So now I'm leavingI gave a little bit more
And got a little bit less

So now I'm leaving
It was beginning to show
That you couldn't care less
I can't believe itI gave a little bit more
And got a little bit less
So now I'm leaving
That you couldn't care less
I can't believe itI thought you were the one
It makes no sense at allIt makes no sense at all [3x]
