Mother's Eyes

Great White

And slowly she turns away
Oh, don't look anymore
There's only stillness
No more air can he drawNo time to say goodbye
No last little kiss
No life where bullets fly
And now it comes to thisWhat's left in her world
The child's goneSoftly she whispers
"Where did I go so wrong?"
My future, my baby
Tell me what's goin' on?No light in mother's eyes
Nothing you can say
No answers for the why's
She'll ask every dayWhat's left for the world
The child's gone
