Taproot

Occasionally I feel like the walls
Around are closing in on me
Physically I feel sometimes
I need seclusion to be freeThe irony at last I see
Reality is my perception
And my personality is my reflectionI must eliminate and change
Yesterday's, yesterday's pains today
I must eliminate and change
Yesterday's, yesterday's pains todayI need to be set free from the smiles
That are scarring my skin sarcastically
And causes seems to comfort
And freeze in full around me mentallyThe irony at last I see
Reality is my deception
And my personality is my deflectionI must eliminate and change
Yesterday's, yesterday's pains today
I must eliminate and change
Yesterday's, yesterday's pains todayCan I make it?
I'll try
Can I take it?
I'll tryI've finally healed my wounds
And healing the next thing and pouring out of me
The precious success becoming
Apparently a bigger part of meI'm looking back at the things
That I can't remove my past okay with me
The future is brighter than
I could imagine it to beI must eliminate and change
Yesterday's, yesterday's pains today
I must eliminate and change
Yesterday's, yesterday's pains today
