Whisper

Chase Rice

What if I rolled the dial to the right
And let that minor chord steer this night
What if slid a match and lit the wick
What if I shut you up with my lips on your lips

Let the gravel in my voice drown out all the noise

With a whisper tonight
These thoughts that no one else can hear
Cut through my lips, dance in your ear
Till light comes burning through that window pane
Your hair's painting that pillow case
Answer me baby with nothing but your body
Your hands got a crazy way of talking naughty
But the other side of these walls
The ups and downs of these halls (oh)
Hear what can start with a whisper

And what if that kitchen table gets wrecked
Yeah plates crashing down with my breath on your neck
What if that $75.94 you spent at the store
Takes the rest the night off as it slides to the floor

With a whisper tonight
These thoughts that no one else can hear
Cut through my lips, dance in your ear
Till light comes burning through that window pane
Your hair's painting that pillow case
Answer me baby with nothing but your body
Your hands got a crazy way of talking naughty
But the other side of these walls
The ups and downs of these halls (oh)
Hear what can start with a whisper

Let the gravel in my voice drown out all the noise

With a whisper tonight
These thoughts that no one else can hear
Cut through my lips, dance in your ear
Till light comes burning through that window pane

Your hair's painting that pillow case
Answer me baby with nothing but your body
Your hands got a crazy way of talking naughty
But the other side of these walls
The ups and downs of these halls
Hear what can start with a whisper

With a whisper yeah
With a whisper
Yeah hear what can start with a whisper
