Be Like You

Ed Sheeran

Unhappy days that left us on the floor And you'd breathe me 'til you're not feeling sureEverything will brighten up If we go to Brighton I'll take you along the pier Everything will lighten up If you feel too frightened I'll make it disappear Darling don't be nervous I'll understand if you let me go I did this on purpose nowWhen I'm missing you I'll stop eating food And I'll squeeze in to a dress so I can be like youAnd then I'll see your bitterness And why you're leaving too Maybe I'll put you to a test and say that I love you I think that I love youSunny days that left my skin blood red And you squeeze me 'til these thoughts leave my head If it gets too complicated I'll give up and be frustratedCan you see what's wrong?

If you feel like you've been hated

This loves too overrated

See what's going on, onDarling don't be nervous

I'll understand if you let me go

I did this on purpose nowWhen I'm missing you I'll stop eating food And I'll squeeze in to a dress so I can be like youAnd then I'll see your bitterness And why you're leaving too

Maybe I'll put you to a test and say that I love you I think that I love you Take me back to live at home, take me back to Albert Road Now I'm missing you, I've stopped eating food

And I've squeezed in to your dress so I can feel like you But then I saw your bitterness and why you left me tooI thought I'll put you to a test and say that I love you

I think that I love youAnd I've stopped eating food

And I've squeezed in to your dress so I could feel like you But then I saw your bitterness and why you left me too Maybe I'll put you to a test and say that I love you

Now it seems you loved me too
