

Many Faces

D'nox

Will it take some time
To release this inner apathy?
Enabled inside
And it looks like you're the enemy Things are never what they seem
Can't explain the reasons why
The illusions that we see
The many faces of our lives When you find it hard to breathe
Never keep it all inside
Which one should I be
The many faces of our lives? Irrelevant minds
You become a little more serious
Still passing me by
You should not be, rightly, dear to us Things are never what they seem
Can't explain the reasons why
The illusions that we see
The many faces of our lives When you find it hard to breathe
Never keep it all inside
Which one should I be
The many faces of our lives? If you feel that the timing is all wrong
Here's the key to remove yourself from harm
Maybe then you will live again, live again Things are never what they seem
Can't explain the reasons why
The illusions that we see
The many faces of our lives When you find it hard to breathe
Never keep it all inside
Which one should I be
The many faces of our lives? I'm afraid we're in too deep
Things are never what they seem
I'm afraid we're in too deep I'm afraid we're just too deep to come out, okay
I'm afraid we're just too deep to come out, okay
Now
Now
