Write Back

The Neatbeats

the light bends
around us
and it keeps us from being found as we find each other once again right back where we startedwe left our hearts ready to fall back in again
open arms
seems so far above than what we deserveencircled by crowds of promises dancing 'round as they mark and celebrate the end of my years of scaredwe left our hearts
seems so far above than what we deservethe light bends around us
and it keeps us from being foundwe left our hearts
seems so far above than what we deserveThanks to David (JrDave2304@wi.rr.com) for these lyrics
