

From December

Project 86

It's the first day
Since I handed You Your final rose
In Your house
I'm staring out through Your window at our treeHeights of which You'll never ever knowYou always
Were there to rescue me
From DecemberYou always
Were there to rescue me
From DecemberIn my mind's eye
I see You next to me as I'm on my knees
It's in this place
That You showed me how to ask eternityFor shelter, for comfort, for reliefYou always
Were there to rescue me
From DecemberYou always
Were there to rescue me
From DecemberWhen I see our branches stretching
To heights You'd not believe
One day these leaves will reach You
And there will be no more painYou always gave me refuge
Unconditional
You always offered shelter
From December's snowMy chin still rests upon You
While my feet, they sway
I wonder if You'll look the same
When You embrace me on that dayYou always
Were there to rescue me
From DecemberYou always
Were there to rescue me
From December
