From December

Project 86

It's the first day
Since I handed You Your final rose
In Your house

I'm staring out through Your window at our treeHeights of which

You'll never ever knowYou always

Were there to rescue me

From DecemberYou always

Were there to rescue me

From DecemberIn my mind's eye

I see You next to me as I'm on my knees

It's in this place

That You showed me how to ask eternityFor shelter, for comfort, for reliefYou always

Were there to rescue me

From DecemberYou always

Were there to rescue me

From DecemberWhen I see our branches stretching

To heights You'd not believe

One day these leaves will reach You

And there will be no more painYou always gave me refuge

Unconditional

You always offered shelter

From December's snowMy chin still rests upon You

While my feet, they sway

I wonder if You'll look the same

When You embrace me on that dayYou always

Were there to rescue me

From DecemberYou always

Were there to rescue me

From December
