

Heal Me (Remastered 2016)

Gamma Ray

When I wake up at the end of the day

Moon comes out sun fades away

I get myself out of my bed and cry

Is it really me now - could this be the real thing

Is there someone else to ease the pain

So easy, so easy now, has it really gone too farIt don't matter anyhow, sometimes I feel like an

Echo in the wind, that's not coming back againI look inside my head and what I see

Are the reflections of the world

And I see genius and insanityYou're alive - you're part of the show

You came to foresee the signs on the wallSo many tried in vain - they know the truth

Learn - how to live and fight and learn -

How to fight them right and learn - how to give and take it allYou can be strong if you know who you are
The signs on the wall tell you move on before it's too lateCan you see them, do you want to be the one who's creeping on the floor?

Could it be forever? Could it all be lies?

The chaos is a killer and he knows who will fallHelp me - I need some help

Now is there someone out there

What are you waiting for?

You're on the road to nowhere

The only way I knowMaybe I'm wrong, I haven't got a clue

Don't know where I belong - tell me what is trueOh won't you come to heal me - heal me [repeat 4 times][Here comes the "undocumented piece" ..they talk for a while something about well....God, afterlife, Truth - is all that real and such sort of thing]Think - don't think - what can you see

Our life is just a fantasy of someone we will never see

Therefore I break down in laughter

Now as I change my point of view

There's nothing left to make me blue - never again - no more

Come on in my friend and join the ball

Everything is beautiful - even the band - it's magic

Imagine you're superstar you gonna fly

You gonna go far - far, so far[Solo Dirk]Oh won't you come to heal me - heal me [repeat 4 times]
