Sometimes

Rhett Miller

Sometimes, sometimes, sometimes
The only thing you have is a song
And in these times, in these times
In these lonely, lonely times, I will sing alongEver since I found you
I've been orbiting around you like you are the sun
Ever since I met you
There's no way I could forget you are the only oneEvery single morning
When I hear you in there humming on a brand new tune
If I blink I'll miss you, honey
All I want's to kiss you and I want to soonSometimes, sometimes, sometimes
The only thing you have is a song
And in these times, in these times
In these lonely, lonely times, I will sing alongI might just surprise you
I might be the one who tries to love you every day
I propose forever, although longer would be better
What do you say, what do you say?Sometimes, sometimes, sometimes
The only thing you have is a song
And in these times, in these times
In these lonely, lonely times, I will sing along
I will sing along

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/