Seven Months

Portishead

How can I forget you
Disregard how I feel
Silently listen
To the words I can't seeAs long as I have tried
As low as I can be
I will never resign myself
From the trial I seekWhy should I forgive you
After all that I've seen
Quietly whisper
When my heart wants to screamFor as long as I have tried
And as low as I can be
I will never resign myself
From the trial I seekThere's no time to rest
Or to reconsider
For this cruel unsaid
Won't concedeFor as long as I have tried
And as low as I can be
I will never resign myself
From the trial I seek
