

House of Memories

Ten Shekel Shirt

You're my hero, little girl
You always save the day with your smile
You know I'm in love
With one behind those pretty eyes I will build for all time, a house of memories
Just for you and I, there you'll find
Rooms inside, filled with laughter, joy
And your daddy's pride Around the table, down the hall
Chase each other till the laughter makes us fall
In the evening, lay our heads down
And thank God for these memories You're my angel
Sending messages of love
You're my future
A part of me that carries on I will build for all time, a house of memories
Just for you and I, there you'll find
Rooms inside, filled with laughter, joy
And your daddy's pride Around the table, down the hall
Chase each other till the laughter makes us fall
In the evening, lay our heads down
And thank God for these memories I will build for all time, a house of memories
Just for you and I, there you'll find
Rooms inside, filled with laughter, joy
And your daddy's pride Around the table, down the hall
Chase each other till the laughter makes us fall
In the evening, lay our heads down
And thank God for these memories You're my hero
Come and save the day with your smile
You're my angel
