

My America

Deacon Blue

Church bells go ringing for you and I
This bright sky is singing for you and I
All the land goes laughing into that glad goodbye
All the land goes laughing into that glad goodbye Oh, my America
My new found land
Oh, my America
My new found land Church bells go ringing, strangers cry
People keep bringing their sad, sad smiles
Time won't even listen to why we had to lie
Time won't even listen to why we had to lie Oh, my America
My new found land
Oh, my America
New found land Listen to the wave crash
Listen to the wave on the wide sound She's far and she's wide and she's one small step away
She's far and she's wide and she's one small step away Church bells keep ringing for you and I
We rush, we live, we laugh for some time, night
These green fields and roads go rolling in your eye
These green fields and roads go back and back and back Oh, my America
My new found land
Oh, my America
New found land My, my America
New found land
My sweet America
New found land Sweet, sweet, America
Sweet, sweet, America
Oh, my America
New found land Oh, my America
