

Break My Heart, O God!

Dennis Jernigan

Lord You see every tear when I cry
Knowing You love me leaves me wondering why You do
For I know You know I don't really love You

For if I loved You, I would lay my life down
And if I loved You, I would share what I've found in You Lord show me every way that I don't love You

So break my heart, oh God
For it is like a rock, so very hard
Jesus my rock come and break my heart
for You're the only rock that can break it apart, oh God
So break my heart, oh God
Please break my heart, oh God

Lord every day another part of me dies
Oh how I thank you that You opened my eyes to you
For I know in my heart I long to know You

For if I loved You, I would do what You say
Lay down my life that You might give it away, oh Lord
Show me every way that I don't know You

So break my heart, oh God
For it is like a rock, so very hard
Jesus my rock come and break my heart
for You're the only rock that can break it apart, oh God
So break my heart, oh God
Please break my heart, oh God

Break my heart, oh God
