

She Knows My Name

The Family Crest

Now with a wonder,
she wakes by the curtains, she knows
That the morning brings an ending to our love
And the window it shakes with a silence that grows Oh it hurts her but she's never never known Oh it's not that bad when she goes
'Cause she sings my name like it's a sad, sad song
Oh it's not that bad when she's away She knows my name she knows it well
And she knows my face more than herself
But I wish her well Here in the morning she wakes without warning, she cries,
"Oh, I love you dear!"
And this widow of old past insidious hearts
Well she screams a lot and cries to be alone So it's not that bad when she goes
'Cause she sings my name like it's a sad, sad song
Oh it's not that bad when she's away She knows my name, she knows it well
And she knows my face, more than herself
But I wish her well Sometimes she stalks and moans like a ghost
And the way she throws her words
Well they hurt me to the bones
They weigh me down like stones Here, in the evening, my words are deceiving and cold
And oh, with a wonder, our hearts torn asunder it shows
That her love was just an excuse to be loved So it's not that bad when she goes
'Cause she sings my name like it's a sad, sad song
Oh it's not that bad when she goes
'Cause she sings my name like it's a sad, sad song A sad song Deutsche: Meine Liebe geht dir love is yours)
