Oblivion

Odd Future Wolf Gang Kill Them All

I hear you, but I'm not afraid of you I'm not afraid of you Father, where is my gun? Now that the war has begun Oh, let me go it alone, I need no one I said I need no one But oh God, now here it comes And it's too dark to aim this gun Clicking now faster, faster, faster Once again I'm on the run And I hear you say, oh my stubborn son Don't you said you need no one But don't you see danger, danger, danger's Headed to oblivion? Followed the hunt far as I could Through dozen weathers, petrified wood And I took one shot in the dark And fired the bullet silver to heart And oh God, now here it comes

And it's too dark to aim this gun

Now faster, faster, faster

Once again I'm on the run

And I hear you say, oh my stubborn son I know that you said you need no one

But don't you see danger, danger, danger

Headed to oblivion?

Oblivion, oblivion, oblivion, oblivion, oblivion Wait a second, have you come so far for it to end like this?

This is the challenge

I dare you to take a hold of that darkness from deep down in you Get back up, what are you so afraid of?

Show your face, face to me

Show your face, face to me

Be you my friend or enemy

Show your face, face to me

I do not fear oblivion, I do not fear oblivion Said I do not fear oblivion, oblivion, oblivion, oblivion

Father, where is my gun?

I need no one, I need no one

Said I need no one
