

Let Me Love Again

Paul Carrack

in a world, of broken dreams, where everthing an illusion, nothing stay the same, search to find, the truth somewhere, Everywhere we turn, seems the doubt is always there

But now I found, someone like you, there's a reason to believe, can be trueTake my heart, thats all I ever give, long as I can live, let me love again

I'll be yours, to have and yours to hold, keep you from the cold let me love againEvery day, I realise, there nothing to regain keeping everything inside,

I may have lost,a love before, but I'm not afraid of losing you anymore

In this life, we walk alone, until we find someone to call our ownTake my heart, thats all I have to give, long as I can live, let me love again

I am yours, to have and yours to hold, coming from the cold, let me love againonly you, everything in to me, now my heart is free, living love again only you, never let love die, your the reason why, i'm living love againIn this life, we walk alone, unless we find someone to call our own

Take my heart, thats all I have to do, I only want to do, let me love again

I am yours, to have and yours to hold, keep me from the cold, let me love againlet me love again, let me love again
