Sandcastles

Dreamshade

It's time to empty the bag my friend the sandcastle has collapsed along with your lies(You're not the same...) Is this the end?
(And you've played your game) You've had your chance
The time to face reality has arrivedI always gave the best of me but nothing ever got back to me and all I've sacrificed and strived for all I've hoped and cried for never seems to be enough...All that I want seems to much to ask and all I need hides behind your mask I need something that makes me feel alive and someone who saves my lifeDon't lie to me, 'cause memories one day will come together and you'll have the deal with them foreverIt's time to empty the bag my friend the sandcastle has collapsed along with your lies(You're not the same...) Is this the end?
(And you've played your game) You've had your chance
The time to face reality has arrivedDon't lie to me, 'cause memories one day will come together and you'll have the deal with them forever...It's not too late...Take your last chance, it's not the end
