

Falling Apart

Osker

I knew this fit together too perfectly
I struggled with some problems that were made by me
I knew it was too good to be true
Now why am I not surprised it started with you? Why are you so difficult?
I only wanted you there and no one else
I'm getting tired of these moods
And no, I don't follow you It all fell apart right in my hands
And I'm waiting for you to change your mind again
It all fell apart right in my hands
And I'm waiting for you to change your mind again Though I'd like to be happy all the time
But Dave would like to think, think otherwise
It wasn't about fun as it changed for the worst
And you fought no one Why are you so difficult?
I only wanted you there and no one else
I'm getting tired of these moods
And no, I don't follow you It all fell apart right in my hands
And I'm waiting for you to change your mind again
It all fell apart right in my hands
And I'm waiting for you to change your mind again Why are you so difficult?
I only wanted you there and no one else
I'm getting tired of these moods
And no, I don't follow you It all fell apart right in my hands
And I'm waiting for you to change your mind again
It all fell apart right in my hands
And I'm waiting for you to change your mind again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>