Lay Me Down

Crosby & Nash

Driving out through the windmills
And some of them were still
Sometimes it's hard to catch the wind
And bend it to your willEven though it's hard to know
Just how the story ends
The road is long and it takes its time
On that you can dependLay me down in the river
And wash this place away
Break me down like sand from a stone
Maybe I'll be whole again one dayLay me down, lay me down
Maybe I'll be whole again
Lay me down, lay me down
Maybe I'll be whole againSomewhere between Heaven and Hell
A soul knows where it's been
I want to feel my spirit lifted up
And catch my breath againLay me down in the river
And wash this place away
Break me down like sand from a stone
Maybe I'll be whole again one dayLay me down, lay me down
Maybe I'll be whole again
Lay me down, lay me down
Maybe I'll be whole again
Lay me down, lay me down
Maybe I'll be whole again one day
