Common Ground

Ximena Sarinana

I'm in the task of looking back wondering if I am still on track With what I believe to be the score love is fair, nothing more.
Knife in the water's cutting in bearing the cost of look you gave when you left me for the prize, didn't care for goodbyes.
I got lost in the way
I was so caught up I forgot
How to remember
In the end all we have
is a common ground
that will save us from each other My heart is beating like a drum, leaving behind what I've become To follow the lead of broken dreams, nothing is what it seems.

I got lost in the way
I was so caught up I forgot
How to remember
In the end all we have
is a common ground
that will save us from each other We're alone,
we don't want to look around,
we don't care,
we just want it all right now.
I'm scared
that the world is crashing down.
Open up sympathy is all we've got
I got lost in the way
I was so caught up I forgot
How to remember
In the end all we have
is a common ground
that will save us from each other
