

Wrong Side Of The Tracks

Strung Out

tell me what you want from me cuz i don't know exactly what you want me to be now there's no place left for me to go now so why don't you come kick me around for a while down here you won't see me crying ain't got no time for that i've planned a million ways to sacrifice myself now seems like every time i try to gain a little ground i wind up right back where i never thought i'd be now down here it feels all right plenty of time
to find another way self destruction's the only way i know how to maybe another time maybe another day i'll be strong enough to leave this place behind me but like a clown i'll raise my glass to the sky and toast another night serenadin' my reflection
to seize the day without this bottle of redemption so tonight i'll stumble my way home maybe tomorrow i'll find myself a job but tonight i got the moon and the stars got a song in my head and a pocket full of nothin' well i got no plans got no peace of mind i gotta find a way outta here took a little more than i gave away don't tell me to get up and try to get it right
