Say Hello (Hobosville)

Drugstore

To all the crazy people who are walking in the rain
To every single young girl who is waiting for a man
And to every desperado who is looking for a friend
To all the lonely strangers who think life is pretty bad
To all the funny people who are really rather sad
And to everyone who likes to have a lot of fun in bedI say hello
To all the junkies
The sinners and the creeps
I say hello
To all the people in this place
I say hello
To all the drug-heads
The prostitutes and freaks
I say hello
To all the people In the world!To all the foreign people who are always in a fight
To all the clumsy lovers who can never get it right
And to all the ones I know who'll never get to see the light
To everyone out there who likes to hang out with the stars
To every man in black and anyone who plays guitars
And to all of you who know that there is human life on MarsI say hello
To all the junkies
The sinners and the creeps
I say hello
To all the people in this place
I say hello
To all the drug-heads
The prostitutes and freaks
I say hello
To all the people In the world!

Songwriters
MONTEIRO, ISABELPublished by Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/