

Not Tonight

Jimi Jamison

Someday I'll miss you, but not tonight
Don't know all the answers
Don't know where this road will lead me
Don't know if you're sorry or having regrets
You say that I need you
You say that I'm gonna be lost without you
You say come running
Right back to your arms
No use to go on pretending
No use tonight you broke my heart yeah
You said it meant nothing
Just an honest mistake
Anyone can make
Someday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonight
Someday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonight
You're working so hard
Turning wrong into right
Oh baby someday I might miss you
But not tonight
We promised forever
We promised for worse or better
We promised each other
Don't mess with our hearts
I will always love you
I will always carry you deep inside me
I think about you
You're hard to forget
No use to go on pretending
No use tonight you broke my heart yeah
You said it meant nothing
Just an honest mistake
Anyone can make
Someday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonight
Someday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonight
You're working so hard
Turning wrong into right
Oh baby, someday I might miss you
But not tonight
It can't go on when trust is gone
(I'm leaving and now I'm moving on)
There will be days; I'm not that stronger now
I'll regret goodbye
But not tonight
Someday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonight
Someday I might miss you
But not tonight not tonight
You're working so hard

Turning wrong into right
Oh baby, someday I might miss you
But not tonight*repeat to fade*
(Someday I'll miss you
